Dear Abbey & Dirleton Friends

Our Kirk Sessions were recently given a presentation from the Presbytery Forward Planning group about the new Presbytery Plan. This is still work in progress but ought to be finalised later this year.

The plan is being revised because of the drastic reduction in the number of ministers over the next few years. We are not recruiting enough, we're not keeping enough, and we're losing a lot, many because of retirement. In the next 5 years there will only be 2/3 of the Ministers needed to fill charge, and Lothian Presbytery will have to reduce its ministers by 1/3.

But the church of Jesus Christ is not about Ministers! It's about people, and about building the kingdom. Jesus promised 'I will build my church'

We are building the church. For example, our weekly 'little nippers' and monthly youth club groups are drawing in young people and parents. Our Sunday Club is an enthusiastic group of children & teenagers. And in Abbey we've just completed work to extend and upgrade our halls, providing better space for the very young as well as older people and groups (this building work is thanks to the generosity of the late Dorothy & Hugh Robinson, who were faithful members of Abbey).

We're in the season of Easter, the time of resurrection to new life. I didn't finish the quote from Jesus: 'I will build my church, and even death will not overcome it'.

Your Minister,
David

David McLean, an appreciation

On Sunday 4th February, our dear Elder and former Session Clerk passed into glory. Not only was this a great loss for Linda and her family, and for the Abbey Church, but also for the wider Church in Scotland.

David grew in faith as a young man in Ayrshire, and served in congregations there, in Glasgow, and for the past 35 years in Abbey. As an Elder and Session Clerk, as a Reader, and as a member of the Church of Scotland Assembly Council, he discharged all his duties with diligence, thoughtfulness and graciousness.

In his professional working life, David quickly moved up to management and executive positions in the Glasgow Savings Bank (later the TSB), and Standard Life. He was a valued colleague, who always had the interests of the customers at heart.

David meeting Linda (on his first day at work in the Bank) was providential, and their 52 years of marriage was a match made in heaven. Our thoughts and prayers are with her and the family. Our gratitude is to the Lord that we were privileged to know him.

Year of Young People

April Theme - Equality and Discrimination

Speak up for those who cannot speak for themselves, for the rights of all who are destitute. Proverbs 31:8

What does the Lord require of you? To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God. Micah 6:8

Action

What forms of discrimination do your young people face?

What areas do your young people want to discuss and think more about?

Are there peace and justice initiatives or campaigns to get involved with?

With the terrible events that have happened in the world over the past few years, how can we support young people to challenge all forms of prejudice and discrimination and engage with others in peace building?

The National Youth Assembly in 2017 explored inter-faith work. How might your young people explore this? Do young people have their own ideas?

Do your children and young people have other ideas?

Prayer

Dear God,

We pray for all those in our world suffering from racism, sexism and religious discrimination.

For the individuals who are silenced for expressing their beliefs.

For the people who feel marginalized within society. Please help them remain positive despite physical and psychological strife.

Help them to forgive those who persecute them or who fail to treat them with respect.

Forgive us, Lord, if we consciously or unconsciously share in the conditions or in a system that perpetuates injustice.

Please enlighten all Your disciples that discrimination does not only come in the form of lowering others but it demonstrates itself in the process of granting of privileges to select groups of people as well.

Guide lawmakers and those at the head of government make decisions that grant all individuals equal status under the law.

Amen.

Year of Young People
May Theme - Participation and Influence

I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full. John 10:10

Suzi Farrant (Mission & Discipleship Council Children & Young People's Development Worker):

'The God I believe in is a God of abundance not of deficit. A God with whom there is always more, a God of hope, a God who desires to see us grow and have life in all its fullness. When we recognise all that God has done and is doing for us we begin to join in, following the Spirits leading, willingly sharing such abundance with others, regardless of age.

Starting from a place of abundance helps us to notice the stories of children who have found love within our church communities, the stories of young people being released from pain and given hope, the stories of adults whose faith has been inspired by the questions and thoughts of children.

Hearing these stories leads us to yearn for more and to being more willing to change what we are doing so that we are in step with the Spirit, leading others to join the party too.'

Action

Give young people the chance to influence decisions that affect their lives

How are young people involved in decisions in the church? How can this be developed?

How can young people be more involved in the Kirk Session?

Ask children and young people what they want to do in the groups they attend.

How are young people involved in decisions at Presbytery and national level - can they attend National Youth Assembly or become a General Assembly Youth Rep?

Can young people share a video of something they are proud of or some challenges they want to share with the wider church?

To further develop your relationship with your children and young people, find out if any young people or children participate in the decision-making within their school. Are they members of the Pupil Council? Eco Committee? Or any equivalent? Celebrate these achievements with your young people.

REGAL

Our last sessional meeting was held in March. We sat enchanted as we listened to Stan da Prato telling us about the challenges he faces when he prepares and makes his pallet gardens. During his talk he showed some photographs of the pallet garden in the process of being created. The gardeners, amongst the audience, picked up many useful tips on how to improve their own gardens

Once completed, the pallet garden is entered into Scottish gardening competitions and Stan's garden usually wins a gold medal. Then the pallet garden is transported to Abbey church where it enhances the entrance to the church for the next few months.

Our summer outing will be the next time that we meet. From the syllabus you will see that it is planned that we go to the Scottish parliament and meet our local MP, Mr Ian Gray. Mr Gray is heavily involved with Parliamentary & committee work and constituency matters, however a date has been confirmed as Wednesday, 27th June. In the meantime I hope you enjoy the spring weather.

GO IN LOVE

By the time you read this the Guild Theme 'Go in Love' will have been completed and, at the AGM in March, a new Guild Committee will have been set up to organise and run the 2018-19 Session.

You can look forward to the new STRATEGY "One Journey, Many Roads" with THEMES "Seeking the Way", "Companions on the Way" and "The Extra Mile"

In the months April- September, however, look out for news of a FILM OUTING and a SUMMER OUTING. Details for these will be in a forthcoming newsletter or Sunday intimation.

The only definite date for the near future is for "THE BIG SING" on TUESDAY 22nd MAY (Part of Church of Scotland GENERAL ASSEMBLY) - in Edinburgh Assembly Hall at 7pm.

If you would like to attend, contact Linda Scott for a ticket (we usually travel by train).

The Year of Young People 2018

The Scottish Government has dedicated this year to young people and we as the Church of Scotland have dedicated ourselves to our young people. I believe each and every one of us can, in our own way, sign up to the promises made at the special service on 28th January. We may not all meet our young people in person every week and we may not be directly involved in their Christian education, but we can get to know their names and pray for them, and through our example we can help them to grow in their relationship with God.

We will be trying new things throughout the year to make sure that we fully involve young people in the life of our church. We have already introduced some new songs, chosen by them, to make them feel at home. Their drama input into services is already fantastic!

As we go through this year, be reminded that we said to our young people that we want to:

GET TO KNOW YOU
LISTEN TO YOU
SHARE FAITH WITH YOU
PRAY WITH AND FOR YOU
INVOLVE YOU
HELP KEEP YOU SAFE
HELP DEVELOP YOUR GIFTS
ENABLE YOU TO GROW IN YOUR RELATIONSHIP WITH GOD

Dirleton Kirk Session Clerk

Sunday 4th March may have been the first day in the recent freeze when a thaw was noticed in the air; when the fine powdery snow which had fallen in the previous week, its texture so unusual in Dirleton, took on the far more familiar quality of slush; but we thought it better not to risk convening for worship in the Kirk, but to gather instead in the Hall. The gravel on the paths between the gate and the doors of the Kirk make them difficult to sweep. So, with thanks to those responsible for sweeping the shorter paved path from the road to the door of the hall, we met in the hall instead of in the Kirk.

The Church of Scotland, like every other organisation in the country, had circulated warnings calling for caution in the conditions: a matter of 'Is your Service of Worship really necessary?' rather than 'Is your Journey really necessary'. We concluded that it was: but in the light of the decision not to meet in the Kirk, we stood down the organist, Philip Boon, from his duties. There being no keyboard in the Hall, we faced the challenge of singing hymns unaccompanied.

David told us about arriving to take a service in a church in the Highlands when a student, and being advised- there and then- that the practice there was for unaccompanied singing. "Who leads the singing?" was his question, and back came the answer: "You". That unnerving experience stood him in good stead; gathered together, in the comparatively confined space of the hall, we contrived to make a reasonable sound, and no-one held back out of embarrassment about their quavery high notes or inability to sound the deep notes.

I was reminded again of the words of the great composer and musician William Byrd, written in the 16th Century: "since singing is so good a thing, I wish all men would learn to sing". We missed our organ accompaniment, but there was something in the experience of singing unaccompanied that made me wish we could do it more often.

A last flurry of thick snow fell towards the end of our worship, but the snow was beginning to disappear, and things were starting their return to normal (except for those who had to use the train service to Edinburgh that week...). The experience of singing unaccompanied, without an organ, made us think of different aspects of our worship, and reflect on the pleasure to be taken- on occasion- from singing hymns in that way. The experience of the snows, and how people responded- the greater concern for neighbours, the offers to make journeys to the shops, the sharing, the collective efforts to clear roads and pavements- these things prompted me to wonder if it would be a good thing if the so-called 'Beast from the East' were to return for a few days every year, to remind us of the way in which we are called on to show the same love for our neighbours as we show for ourselves.

Shoe Box Appeal

'Wilkie's' (North Berwick), our main provider of empty shoe boxes, has informed me that now they have to sell their shoes with the box in case the shoes have to be returned. I would be grateful if anyone purchasing shoes could keep the empty boxes, or bring them to church, as I can store them in my garage until the appeal in November.

Many thanks

Plastic milk carton tops

Thank you for everyone who has been collecting these for charity. Unfortunately we can't take any more in the meantime. We will let you know if this changes.

Prayer - April and May

I do hope you were all able to rejoice, celebrating Easter. What a wonderful time in the Christian calendar. Let us pray

Dear Lord,

It was a wonderful time being able to praise your name over Easter. We were so grateful, singing your praises and offering prayers of thanksgiving. Giving your life, for each of us, and rising from the dead, that we might be saved—what a wonderful Saviour! Forgive us Father should we stop singing and praising you. Where would we be without you? May we keep on praising your Holy Name.

This wonderful world, which you created, must make you so sad/angry. What a dreadful place we have made it. Forgive us Lord. Please let peace reign—world wide. May food and clean water be available to us all. Show us how we can share with all the poor souls in need. We pray that those who donate will be assured that it all goes towards those who need it. Thank you. Let peace go out to all your children.

Strengthen those who go out to foreign shores—spreading good news. Help those who are ill and those who care for them. May the lonely/sad realise you are always with them, comfort those who grieve and uplift them. Thank you. In Jesus' precious name.

Betty Hawthorn (prayer secretary)

After the severe weather, let us welcome spring with all the beautiful, colourful flowers coming into bloom.
